Travel Restrictions in the Gunnison Basin

This brochure should be used in conjunction with the Gunnison Basin Area Map (dated 1984) or the Gunnison Basin Public Lands Map (due out in Spring 2002).

The public lands in the Gunnison Basin are a mosaic of rich resources enjoyed by people from around the country. Recreational use is an important and rapidly growing use of these lands that the U.S. Forest Service (FS) and Bureau of Land Management (BLM) manage for you.

Whatever they are doing, most people use vehicles to access these lands.

The new travel restrictions are explained inside. Please help us protect the natural beauty of the Gunnison Basin that we all find so special.
